

2 Temple Gardens

Sources are full of praise for the “excellent, reliable and approachable” clerks at 2 Temple Gardens, who are highly recommended for their efficiency and responsiveness. “The clerking is excellent and response times are spot on,” says one interviewee, while another notes that “if you ask them to do something, it will get done.” The team is also lauded for its open and flexible approach, with sources saying that “they always have a solution in place, rather than just coming to you with a problem, and are always willing to enter into a dialogue.” Senior clerk Lee Tyler and deputy senior clerk Paul Cray both receive praise for “always going beyond the call of duty,” an attitude which sources make clear also extends to the team as a whole; they are “extremely proactive and endeavour to find solutions” and “always make you feel like your business is of the utmost importance.” More junior members of the clerking team also receive strong individual recommendations, including Leanne Taylor, Billy Hammonds, Ollie Gillen-Smith and Matthew Moylan, who is singled out by one instructing solicitor as “one of the best clerks I’ve dealt with.” Overall, the quality and consistency of the clerking has impressed commentators, who describe the team as “second to none” and “the best of all the sets we’ve used.”
