Practice Overview

Emma is a skilled and experienced commercial disputes and international arbitration specialist and advocate.

Before joining 2TG, Emma practised as counsel at 3 international law firms, working alongside solicitor teams on a regular basis, addressing matters from the point of initial instruction.

Emma brings expertise in complex commercial disputes, employment disputes and international arbitrations across a range of industry sectors - in particular commercial, investment treaty, construction, oil and gas, tax and maritime.

She has acted in ICC, LCIA, DIFC-LCIA, UNCITRAL and SCC arbitrations and provided litigation advice on employment, corporate and tax matters. Emma has appeared both in tribunals and courts in England & Wales and Mauritius. Emma has also advised on international regulatory matters.

Emma has experience in personal injury disputes, including Road Traffic Accidents, with particular focus upon fraudulent claims.

Emma has taught as a Visiting Lecturer at King's College London in both Contract Law, and Corporate, Finance and Security Law.
